Youth Shoots His Father in Drunken Brawl at Gull Lake

RAILWAY COMMISSION HAD A PRETTY BUSY MORNING

Seven Cases Were Heard Out of the Twenty-Two That Are Listed

MABEE IS A HUSTLER

Gave His Decisions Without Much Waste of Time—Sitting This Afternoon

The Board of aRilway Commissioners for Canada met this morning in the council chamber at 10 o'clock, Mr. T. A. Mabee, assisted by Commissioner Mills, composing the commission.

Only seven out of the twenty-two cases were disposed of, and no decision of a startling nature was given. In the case of depreciation of value of property on Clarke street owing to the railway crossing being in bad shape, Mr. Mabee said that he had never heard of property depreciating in value on account of a railway passing close to it, even though the road was in a bad state.

There were a number of well known lawyers present at the sitting, amongst the number being: R. B. Bennett for the C.P.R., O. M. Biggar, W. Johnstone, of Lethbridge, City Solicitor Bown, Mr. Tate for the G. T.P., and W. J. Mann, divisional engineer for the G.T.P., was also present. The local lawyers were represented by Mr. Newell, of Emery, Newell and Bolton, Messrs. Parlee, Grant, Clarke, Edwards, O'Connor and Wallbridge. Mr. R. Richardson is the secretary for the commission.

The first case was that of G. H. Furnival, who declared that the G. T. P. had interefered with access to his property on Clark street by their operations on the Clarke street crossing. Mr. Furival wished the commission to order the G. T. P. to treat with applicant for damages. The applicant wrote asking for damagse, but the company refused to do anything in the matter.

Mr. Tate, the solicitor for the G. T. P., said that the G. T. P. tracks were to be raised to the same height as the C. N. R. and the road crossing would be raised also to the same level. When this was done there would be no damage to the property.

Mr. Wallbridge, for the applicant, said that there had been no grading done to the street.

Mr. Mabee, the commissioner, said that it was a point for arbitration whether the railway company had damaged the property or not.

"The man had a level street," said Mr. Mabee, "whether it was graded or not it was level. Now you people come along and construct an embankment across the street so that he can't get to his property. And also you tore up his sidewalk."

TWO MORE BANKS MAY OPEN UP HERE

Home Bank and Sterling Bank Talk of Establishing Branches in Edmonton

There is a possibility that two more banks may open up branches in this city in a short time. The banks which have the matter under consideration are the Home Bank of Canada, and the Sterling Bank of Canada, both of which have thtir headquarters in Toronto.

Col. James Mason, of Toronto, general manager of the Home Bank is at present in the city, while a representative of the Sterling Bank was here a short time ago.

When seen by the Capital this morning, Col. Mason admitted the possibility of the Home Bank opening a branch here, but would not commit himself further.

BOB CAME BACK

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The call of duty—namely, the fire alarm bell—yesterday brought "Bob," one of the Hull fire horses, tearing back to his stall after a few hours of unlicensed liberty in the streets and suburbs of the city. The fire horse, without halter, got loose during the afternoon and took to his heels. He galloped madly around the streets for a considerable time, eluding all attempts to capture him. Finally the alarm was rung and "Bob" took the nearest way at full gallop for the fire station to report for duty.

MAYOR! MAYOR!! WHO'LL BE MAYOR

Many Names Are Mentioned—Some, However, Say They Will Not Run

BUT FOUR DO NOT DENY IT

Aldermen Gariepy, Armstrong and Hyndman and James McGeorge May All Be Up

Robert Lee.
W. L. Gariepy.
G. S. Armstrong.
J. E. Lundy.
J. D. Hyndman.
James McGeorge.
J. C. Dowsett.

During the past two or three weeks Dame Rumor has been claiming the above gentlemen as possible candidates at the forthcoming mayoralty contest. The following is what each of them, with the exception of Ald. Hyndman, who is returning from Europe, had to say.

Mayor Lee, when seen by the Capital this morning, stated that he had no intention of re-entering the field.

"I have been here for two years now," he said, and I think that is quite enough for any citizen. No; I won't run again."

Ald. Gariepy stated that he had not given the matter much consideration yet. It is felt, however, that Ald. Gariepy will go to the polls.

"I have not decided yet, whether I shall run or not," he said.

Ald. Lundy stated definitely that he would not be a candidate.

"I consider that there are plenty of good men who have a much better right than I have," he said. "Next year will be an important year for Edmonton and it is essential that the best man possible be elected to the mayor's chair."

Ald. Armstrong said that he was also undecided.

"I am thinking it over. I have been approached by several citizens and asked to run."

Mr. Dowsett said that he had no intention of offering himself as a candidate whatever.

"No; there is no possibility of my running," he said.

When Mr. McGeorge was approached and asked if he had any intentions of running, he said: "I have nothing to say."

Ald. Hyndman, of course, could not be interviewed as he is now on the Atlantic Ocean, on his way home. He will arrive back in the city about September 27th. His name, however, has been suggested as a possible candidate.

When all the foregoing interviews are sifted, there remains four names, viz.: Alds. Gariepy, Armstrong, and Hyndman and Mr. McGeorge.

Take your pick.

"THERE IS NOTHING IN IT"

"There is nothing in it."

In these words did Judge Mabee, chairman of the railway commission in session in Edmonton, refute the freely circulated rumor to the effect that he was to be taken into the Dominion Cabinet in place of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, who was to retire owing to continued ill-health.

A Capital reporter approached Judge Mabee this morning in connection with the matter and he gave his denial emphatically.

Oliver for Lt.-Govenor Story is Just Gossip

That is What Sir Louis Davies Thinks--Lt.-Gov. Bulyea's Action Was Constitutional

"The Conservative press of Alberta have been complaining that the action of Lieut.-Governor Bulyea in calling on Premier Sifton to form a government after the resignation of Hon. A. C. Rutherford, without having a general election, was unconstitutional. Can you as an authority on constitutional law tell us wether it is within the rights of a Lieut.-Governor to call upon another man to assume office without a mandate from the electorate of a province?"

The above question was put to the Hon. Sir Louis H. Davies, a justice of the Supreme Court of the Dominion of Canada, who is a visitor in Edmonton, by a Daily Capital reporter.

"The action of a Lieut.-Governor would be quite constitutional in such a case, and the man so called upon could remain in office as long as he held the confidence of a legislature duly elected by and representative of the people. If the Legislature is not in session he is entitled to wait until the house meets, when it would be decided. If he was then defeated on a division, the Lieut.-Governor would have to choose another man, and would in that case have to order a general election."

From this statement made by an acknowleged authority on constitutional law, can be drawn the conclusion that the contentions of the opposition press, in regard to the situation in this province are without foundation.

Sir Louis, who is accompanied by Lady Davies and their daughter, Miss Mary Davies, has been making a tour of the west, having just concluded a pleasant visit to Banff. Sir Louis will remain about ten days in the city, but it is possible that Lady Davies and Miss Davies will prolong their visit. Sir Louis and Lady Davies are staying at the "Updown" while Miss Davies is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Hyndman, Seventh street.

The Hon. Sir Louis H. Davies is a native of Prince Edward Island and represented Queen's County in the Federal Parliament for a number of years. When the Laurier administration assumed office in 1896. Sir Louis was made Minister of Marine and Fisheries. In the following year, on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria, he was knighted. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was knighted at the same time. He was appointed to the Supreme Court bench a few years later.

Sir Louis was also asked if he knew o fany foundation for the story published editorially Saturday morning in the Ottawa Citizen, the Conservative organ in the capital, and reproduced in the local press on Saturday afternoon, to the effect that the Hon. Frank Oliver will resign the portfolio.

TRIPLE DROWNING NEAR VANCOUVER

Small Launch With Eight in It Upset—Excursion Boat Sank on Rocks

Vancouvtr, B. C., Sept. 19.—A small launch containing four men and four women was upset outside the harbor last night and two men and a woman were drowned. The little craft met a tide rip and turned over. An Indian rescued the balance of the women in a canoe and a launch later picked up the other two men. The names of those lost were William Woodruff, Robert Young and the latter's sister Mary. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

The steamer Belcarra, a little excursion boat struck a rock last night off Jervis Inlet and sank in forty fathoms. The seven passengers aboard and the entire crew were rescued.

BABY PLAYING AND MOTHER LAY DEAD

Tragic Sight Met Eyes of the Father in a Winnipeg Home on Saturday

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—A little child splashing merrily away amidst the soap suds in a bath tub while a few feet away the mother lay dead, was the tragic sight which met the eyes of the father, A. H. Thompson, 257 Garry street, Saturday afternoon, when he went up stairs to find out what was delaying her from starting on the pleasure jaunt arranged to Selkirk. She had died from heart failure while washing the infant.

POLICE RAID CHINESE DIVE

And Twenty-Eight Celestials Were Gathered in With the Goods On Them

JUMPED OUT OF WINDOWS

Several Escaped in This Way, But Left Cards and Money Behind

OPIUM PIPES WERE FOUND

And Cans, Too, But Nothing in Them—All in Police Court Today

A Chinese gambling joint at 433 Rice street, masquerading under the name of Kwong Lee Yuen and company, merchants, was raided in a sensational manner on Saturday night by Chief of Police Laney and six constables, and twenty-eight celestials were taken into custody. After being take nto the polict station they were liberated on bail to the amount of $218. This morning they were araigned before Magistrate Byers and the case was adjourned until Friday.

The raid was most complete. Shortly after ten o'clock the chief of police and the six constables left the station and went over to the building in which the den was located. The building is a frame one, two storeys in height and with only one staircase, that being at the rear of the building. Noiselessly opening the back door, the party crept up the stairs. When nearing the top they paused and the sound of chips, and other gambling paraphernalia together with a continuous Chinese chatter could be heard plainly within. Then, one of the party went forward and opened the door slightly, unnoticed by the celestials, intent on their game.

Then suddenly the door was thrown

TWO DAYS WITHOUT FOOD IN THE WILDS

R. B. Gaylord, Prospective Settler in Peace River Country, Had Exciting Trip

THEY BROKE INTO SHACK

And Found Mouldy Moose Meat That Made Them Sick—But He's Going Back

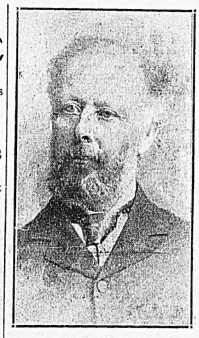

When R. B. Gaylord arrived in Edmonton on Saturday afternoon after a twelve hundred mile trip to Grande Prairie he had been through enough hardships to do the ordinary man for a lifetime. Not that he is a bit sorry; no, he's going back to the Peace River country, which he thinks the finest land in Canada.

Still, he would agre that Edmonton looked good to him on Saturday.

Mr. Gaylord left here with an outfit on July the 19th, just two months ago, and travelled by way of Athabasca Landing and Grouard to Peace River Crossing. He was all alone and found it very trying living without companionship from day to day. This was not the most trying feature, however; the summer had been dry and there was scarcely any water to be found. On one occasion his diary records that he "had to go to bed without supper for there was no water."

Finally, after seeing all of Grande Prairie he wished, he decided on the return trip with intentions of inspecting some of the lang along the Peace. The rain came on about this time and made camping very dismal. After leaving the crossing his provisions began to run low and they gave out before he reached Grouard. Here he disposed of his team, dreading the heavy

MOUNTAIN FEVER EPIDEMIC IN WEST

Hospitals Are Now Filled With This Peculiar Kind of Fever

Dr. McNAB DIED FROM IT

Was Son of Manager of Montreal Star and Only Twenty-Eight Years Old

Mr. L. E. Silcox, assistant engineer to the G. T. P., who has just returned from the McLeod river, when speaking to a Capital reporter this morning, said that there were a large number of cases of mountain fever out west. The hospitals are full of them, with a few cases of typhoid fever.

Dr. McNab, a young physician in charge of one of the hospitals at mile 42 west of the McLeod river, was one of the sases that proved fatal. Dr. Richardson, another of the doctors on the G. T. P., moved him to his own hospital at Prairie Creek and as he became worse, Mr. Chamberlain, the manager of the G. T. P., ordered a special train to take him into Edmonton, but he died before anything could be done in the matter.

Dr. McNab was only 28 years of age. He was a son of the manager of the Montreal Star and had come west to act as a doctor to the G. T. P.

Mr. Silcox said that he did not think that there were many cases of typhoid although Mr. Brewer, the resident engineer at Edson, is only now recovering from it at the city hospital in Edmonton and his cook died from it.

It is hard to find out exactly what mountain fever is. It seems to be mostly due to bad water, which results in dysentry, fever and general weakness. It generally attacks those who are not particularly strong.

The epidemic, according to Mr. Silcox, broke out in different camps, some escaping free, like that of Mr. Collins, who is in charge of John Gunn's camp at Wolf Creek, and others being badly affected by it.

CHIEF DAVIDSON RETURNS TO TOWN

Fire Chief Davidson returned to Edmonton this morning from Syracuse, N. Y., where he has been attending the convention of fire chiefs. Chief Davidson states that the convention was most successful.

"Will there be any changes made in the local department as a result of the discussions at the convention?" asked the Capital.

"There were a number of demonstrations of new appliances," said the chief, "but as to whether we will adopt any of them here remains to be seen."

YOUTH SHOT HIS FATHER

Young Homesteader Committed Frightful Deed When Fighting With His Father

WAS A DRUNKEN BRAWL

Father and Son Had Been Drinking Freely on Friday While in Lacombe

LEWIS McBRIDE IS NAME

Arrested and Jury Found Him Guilty on the Capital Charge Preliminary Hearing Today

Gull Lake, Sept. 18.—A shocking murder occurred near this place on Friday evening. Mr. McBride and his son, Lewis, both homesteaders, who had been in town drinking freely, returned to their homestead shack and engaged in a drunken brawl, during which Louis grabbed a double barrel shot gun and discharged the contents of one barrel into his father's stomach.

The shot suddenly brought the younger man to his senses and realizing what he had done, he immediately set off to town for medical assistance.

Upon explaining what had occurred at the homestead he was arrested by Constable Fisher, of the R. N. W. M. P. Medical aid was sent out to the father and every effort made to relieve his agony, but he passed away at seven this morning.

The jury Saturday night found McBride guilty on a capital charge and the preliminary hearing is to be held this afternoon.

A man named McNaught was suffocated by gas while lighting a well near Gull Lake on Saturday. He has a relative near Heward, Ark.

CANOE CAPSIZED CAUSES DROWNING

Frank Parkes Lost Life in Athabasca River — Companion Tells the Story

A story of a sad accident was told to the R.N.W.M.P. this morning by Joe Williams, a trapper and land seeker, who set out some while ago with his friend, Frank Parker, for the Lesser Slave Lake, and while they were canoeing on the Athabasca, the canoe upset and Parkes went down and was not seen again.

They were going to the Slave Lake trapping and land seeking, travelling to Wolf Cracek by train and from there canoeing down the McLeod river to the Athabasca.

All went well until they were about fifteen miles below the mouth of the McLeod on the Athabasca, when they entered a canyon where the water was flowing fast. The canoe dropped over a sand bar into deep water and in doing so, upset. Williams, who had an amount of clothing on owing to its being in the early morning and rather cold, had great difficulty in getting ashore. His partner, Parkes, went down and he did not see him again.

Williams then made a safe and rafted down to Whitecourt and from there proceeded to Tenhurst on the G.T.P. He is greatly grieved at losing his friend and has given up all thought of landseeking until next spring.

The banks were very high at the canyon, he told The Capital and had been falling in, making a bar across the river and blocking up the channel so that it was hard to tell whether the channel was safe or not.

MONDAY, SEPT. 19, 1910.

THESE DAYS

At last the weather man is on his good behavior. Such days. Such nights. This is the brand of weather that gave to the province its name of Sunny Alberta. It is good just to live, these days. The air is full of ozone, which fills your lungs at every breath, brings a sparkle to the eye and a spring to the step. It is this kind of weather that calls one to the woods, to spend a day in the country of a week in shooting. And the more of our time we can spend out of doors this weather, the better for us.

The leaves are golden, there is a haziness about the horizon, and at night a full moon swings high in the heavens. Come for a walk! A ten mile tramp!

CONSTITUTIONALITIES

A "test case" was placed before a visiting Judge of the Supreme Court of Canada. If a premier resigns, is it constitutional for the Lieutenant-Governor to call upon another man without first getting a mandate from the people? The Conservative papers in this province, particularly the Edmonton Journal, have been strong in saying it isn't.

And as a student of law and constitutional history, this judge was able to answer in only one way: "Of course it is perfectly constitutional."

And now, listen! A few more minutes and the Tory press will scream. R. B. Bennett will orate with much profundity and pounding of the air. "The shame of it," they will cry, "to see a Supreme Court judge mixing in provincial politics. Oh! Oh!" And the tears will flow, "what are we coming to here below?"

Still, it might be pointed out that a student of law, one Sir Louis Davies, merely pointed out the legality or illegality of the action of a certain Lieutenant-Governor, known as the Hon. George Hedley Vicars Bulyea. And, according to Sir Louis, this action was perfectly legal.

CHEAP IN ITALY

Italy owns its telegraphs, and the government has announced reduced rates for telegrams; these go into effect Dec. 1, superceding rates which have been in effect 25 years. Ordinary telegrams of 10 words will cost 11½ cents as compared with 19.3 cents at present; each additional word will be one cent; urgent telegrams 34.7 cents and three cents for each additional word above 10. Telgrams addressed to newspapers go at half price between 9 a.m. and 6 a.m.

BRITISH SHIPPING

The overwhelming preponderance of British shipping is even more striking than the overwhelming preponderance of British naval might. A reutrn issued by the British Board of Trade shows that, despite the progress made by certain foreign nations, more than one-half of the mercantile tonnage of the world flies the British flag. Fifty years ago the proportion was 56.4 per cent; today it is 59.2 per cent. Taking steamships only, the British flag floats from the masthead of 60.5 per cent., thus leaving less than 40 per cent. for the rest of the world to share. Here is a table of tonnage, which shows the colossal lead of the British Empire.

British Empire	13,263,354
German Empire	2,625,404
Norway	1,509,636
France	1,452,495
Italy	1,020,062
United States	940,068

THE HUMAN WASTE PRODUCT

During the first week of October the International Prison Congress will hold in Washington, District of Columbia, what is regarded by penologists as the most important meeting in its history.

Forty-two countries have signified their intention of sending delegates. The government of the United States is to play the part of host, and before the conference opens will have carried the delegates on a two-thousand-mile tour of inspection, to some of the largest and most noted American prisons and reformatories.

The conference may be regarded as the latest manifestation of that awakened public interest in crime and its punishment which, although still new, is already world-wide. The subjects to be considered are divided into four groups,—penal law, prison administration, the prevention of crime and juvenile delinquency.

In each there will be a presentation of conditions as well as by words, which makes such a gathering an international exchange, and gives to the least progressive and most ignorant nation the example and encouragement of the most advanced.

The old conception of the criminal is passing. When a man could be hanged for stealing a sheep or for any one of a score of similar offences, the lawbreaker was merely an evil person upon whom society sought to be revenged. Now he is known to be, in many cases, a victim of conditions and a product of circumstances which society itself has created. He is not a beast, to be killed, or confined indefinitely, but a human being, to be redeemed, if possible.

The criminal is the waste product in the modern process of the manufacture of civilization. The problem is not only how to reduce the waste, but how to convert it into something desirable and useful.

What Others Say

OUCH! SUCH A GROUCHINESS!

From the Calgary Albertan:

Now that the baseball season is over it is quite safe to call a session of the provincial legislature in Edmonton. But for the baseball and the legislature, it would be somewhat difficult to keep Edmonton on the map.

AND THEN SOME

From the Chicago News.

There was a youth in our town—his name my memory slips—who feared he'd kiss some microbes from off his sweetheart's lips. When he found what he had done, with all his might and main, he rushed back the following night and kissed 'em on again.

SPEAKING SERIOUSLY, IT WOULD

From the Toronto News.

A man has invented false teeth which produce musical sounds. Would it not be somewhat embarrassing for a hostess if, while the Calambert cheese was being served, some guest should breathe forth opening strains of Chopin's Funeral March?—Toronto News.

ALBERTA'S RESOURCES

From the Lethbridge Herald.

Hardly a day goes by without some announcement being made of some new field of great wealth in Alberta. One day it is a large area of rich soil yet untouched again it is a large tract of valuable forest in the great unknown north. Another time it is a gusher of natural gas before undiscovered. Yet again, some source of splendid undeveloped water power is found. But probably the greatest of all are the continued discoveries of vast coal areas. These coal fields are not confined to one particular part of the province. There was a time when it was thought that all the good coal in Alberta was in Southern Alberta and the Crow's Nest Pass district. But good coal was found in the Knee Hill country, north-east of Calgary. Then the country west of Edmonton in the Yellowhead and Brazeau districts was found to have vast deposits of good coal. And so it has gone on, and is still going on.

What the coal wealth of this province is can hardly be conjectured, much less calculated. What it means to this province can not be estimated. The known coal fields exceed those of Pennsylvania in value. What is there to hinder Alberta exceeding that great state in its industrial development? The future of Alberta from this standpoint alone should all Albertan hearts with pride and satisfaction as to the permanence of its growth and development. It is hard to imagine a future too great for fulfilment, as this great industry, together with many others are developed to their full capacity.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE

From the Ottawa Journal.

To those who have been taught that the women of India took no part in political movements and confined themselves to the zenana and the harem, it will come as a distinct surprise to be told that an experienced corerspondent of the London Times, who has been dealing with the cause of unrest in India, places "the influence of women" in the foreground. In this connection he writes:

The blind hatred of everything English with which the younger generation is so largely saturated can only in most cases be the result of the teachings that have impressed upon them the existence of a fundamental antagonism between Hindu ideals and ours. For a great many, and perhaps the majority, have never come into contact with a single Englishman, and their ignorance even of the system of government under which they live is profound. Not the least ominous symptom is that this spirit of revolt seems to have obtained a firm hold of the zenana; and the Hindo woman behind the purdah often exercises a greater influence upon her husband and her sons than the Englishwoman who moves freely about the world.

But, after all, is there really cause for surprise? The history of the world is full of instances in which the "influence of women" has been the mainspring of national and social movements, and it may well be that in India history is but repeating itself. We may not like the prospect, but it is quite apparent that the time is rapidly coming when the people of the great Empire of India will demand constitutional liberty, as we understand it in Canada, and it will be well if the concession can be given before the power of Hindu feminism becomes too powerful.

The Art of Advertising

How to achieve publicity for commercial purposes is a subject on which a vast amount of brain tissue is constantly being expended. A writer in the Chicago Tribune contributes this as the latest triumph of the advertiser.

Suddenly the lecturer's voice failed him.

"Gentlemen," he asked, huskily, does any person in the audience happen to have a box of Blank's throat tablets about him?"

"Yes, sir," instantly responded a tall, thin man, in a suit of faded black, rising and making him way to the platform. "Here you are.'

"Thanks," wheezed the orator, taking the box, extracting a tablet, and placing it in his mouth. "I carelessly left mine at home."

Half a minute later he resumed his lecture with a voice as clear as a bell.

THE FROLIC WIND

The wind laughed down the valley,
And sang to the whispering trees;
It kissed the flowers rudely,
And tumbled the laden bees.
It played with a maiden's ringlets,
It started a drowsy fire,
And wrought by a dreaming river
The reeds in a low-tuned lyre.
It stole from a flowery garden,
A burden of sweet perfume,
And scattered the scent of the roses
About in a dark sick-room.
It paused on a city corner,
And tugged at the passers-by;
It crept in a chimney corner,
And moaned as a ghost would sigh.
With joyous hands it pummeled
A noisy window-pane,
And shook a swinging shutter,
With all its might and main.
It bent o'er a weary workman
Where he toiled in a sultry place,
And, pursing its lips with coolness,
Blew soft on his heated face.
It stopped where a bird was singing,
And, catching the lilt of the song,
Bore it to one in anguish
Who smiled, and listened long.
At last, when the day was dying,
It fled down the golden west,
And far beyond the mountains
Sank to its evening rest.

THOSE LEVEL CROSSINGS

That's What Stuck Visitor As a Remarkable State of Affairs.

The prevalence of the dangerous grade crossing in Canada was what impressed Mr. R. M. F. Watson, of Glasgow, general superintendent of the northern and western division of the Central railroad of Scotland, who is at present in Edmonton on his way across the continent. Mr. Watson has had a life long experience in railway work and in his tour through Canada has had a good opportunity to compare British and Canadian railway methods at first hands. The grade crossing is hardly if ever seen in Scotland and consequently one source of danger is eliminated.

Canadian methods of handling freight are probably ahead of British and are certainly better adapted to the needs of this country with their heavy box cars and long trains, whereas in Britain the cars are as a rule open and the trains of a much lower tonage.

CALGARY CALLIES STILL HOLD BENNETT SHIELD

Lloydminster Played Plucky Game---Beaten by 2-0---First Score After 90 Minutes Play

The sudden death game played at Diamond Park on Saturday to decide the title to the Bennett Shield for 1901, resulted in a win for the Calgary Callies over Lloydminster by 2 goals to nil.

The match was advertised for 5 oclock "prompt" and about 500 people were on hand at the appointed hour evidently ignorant of the first commandment in soccer football which says "No match shall start on time." The Lloydminster team and the referee were on hand at 4.45 and after the crowd had stood around hating themselves for 25 minutes, the Calgary aggregation meandered through the gate with a careless look about their Hieland countenances.

"Probably they will start now," said an onlooker hopefully, but he had another guess. Everything was O.K. except for the trifling lack of a football. The powers that be, worrying over the box-office end of the affair, had entirely overlooked the important fact that a Shield cannot be competed for without the necessary pig-skin sphere. After some scurrying around an apology for a ball, as much bepatched as a mendicant's right shoe, was thrown on the field and the referee got the game started, just 30 minutes late.

But the start was a mighty poor one. Hardly had ten minutes elapsed when one of the Lloydminster huskies drove his No. 12 into the ball and there was an explosion. Here follows business of waiting 20 minutes while fleet footed Marathoners are dispatched hither an dthither in quest of a fairly new spheroid. The spectators lapse into a state of semi-coma while harsh remarks are bandied about concerning certain officials.

Ahoy! The Ball

At last a cry of joy arises, the new ball is in our midst and the gladiators get back to their knitting. Lloydminster with the sun at their backs, start off like champions and their combination takes the fancy of the crowd. The Northerners by the help of a penalty kick, swarm around the Callies' goal like hornets but their shooting is poor. Strang kicked up the field, Gee overrunning the ball, and Williams seemed to have the goal at his mercy. Over-anxiety caused a wild shot and Lloydminster stock again rose to par.

Hands were called on the Tykes and after the kick was taken, Callies scored, but unfortunately for them the whistle has blown. Gee returned far down the field and Coopper getting possession, carried ball right to the goal, and then stepped on it ,much to everybody's dismay.

Callies got possession, Barnes going down the right wing, and calling on Davis to show his skill. Collier and Tyler get the ball, when Davis clears, and after a combination rush with Kerswell, Collier shot a wicked one from the side, Strang stopping nicely.

Llodyminster are having all the better of the play and are winning applause from the crowd by their combination rushes. They are all around the Calgary champions, who seem slow and awkward. Just before half time Bissonette and Cooped dashed down the left wing, Cooper taking the shot which almost fooled Goalkeeper Strang. Score at interval 0—0.

Second Half

The second half was a decided disappointment to Edmontonians. By their work in the first half Lloydminster looked, if anything, better than the Callies, but they faded badly after the interval, while the Southerners, wakened up and showed occasional flashes of their old-time form. The first ten minutes was all blue and white, but a penalty kick allowed Lloydminster to send ball to enemy's territory. Tyler followed up fast, shot and missed. The ball went out of bounds, and from the resulting corner, Cooper headed the ball into the goal upright. This was Lloydminster's last chance for some time, as Calgary had the best of the game from now on. Davis was called upon to stop a hard shot from Thompson. Lloydminster came back strong and Kerswell lifted the ball over the bar. Callies returned leather to the other end and kept it there for ten minutes, but seemed unable to score, even though they had numerous corner kicks. A penalty was given against Gee for charging and Callis missed goal by slight margin. The game was stopped for a minute to allow first aid to a stalwart Callie who quickly recovered when the mysterious satchel appeared. There was a penalty right in front of Lloydminster goal, but the Tykes managed to stave off a score. But on a long shot from the right wing, which Davis did not properly clear, Williams got possession and tipped the ball into the net, scoring the first goal in 25 minutes.

Lloydminster did not give up hope. Bissonnette, who had been playing nicely throughout dashed down his wing and centred perfectly to Kerswell, who missed the easiest kind of a chance to tie the score. On a combination rush by Thompson, Williams and A. Strang, the latter scored the last goal of the match in eight minutes.

For Calgary, A. Strang, Barnes, T. Williams, Deacon and Bedford seemed the best, while Gee, Lawson, Cooper and Bissonette did the best work for the Lloydminster team. Kerswell and Collier did not display the form they did against the Edmonton Caledonians.

Referee Hadley, of Red Deer, was fair in all his decisions, though some of the spectators were contrary-minded.

The teams lined up:

EASY MONEY FOR WESTMINSTER

Took First Minto Cup Game in Commanding Style—Score Was 7 to 3

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—There never was a chance for the challenging Nationals at New Westminster Saturday, and in their initial fight today for the world's lacrosse championship they succumbed easily to the faster New Westminster Minto Cup defenders, the score at the time standing seven to three for the Western team.

The champions of the N. L. U. failed to show speed and although the New Westminster team was not by any means up to the form displayed during the season against the Vancouvers, they had no trouble at all in disposing of the Frenchmen. Lalonde, who was at Vancouver last year, was expected to do great things for the challengers, but big Galbraith held him down to a finish and he only got into the nets on one solitary occasion. The easterners were touted as being speedy and able to bore in, but they did not exhibit much running ability and their combination was a minute quantity. They tried hard to get close in to the net, but the heavy defense of Gifford and Galbraith was too much for them. There was little rough play during this first contest and very few penalties were handed out.

Twelve thousand persons witnessed the match which was declared to be slower than either of the two between the Montreal's and the cup holders, a few months ago, and far behind the quality of the league games between the Vancouvers and the New Westminsters. Another game, and the last one, will be played at New Westminster next Saturday.

From the face off the New Westminsters had the play. The Nationals started off, but they soon lost and after some fairly good work by both team Cliff Spring netted the first tally for the Minto Cup holders. Decarie of the Nationals drew a penalty. Gordon Spring and Turnbull of Westminster also went to the fence, it being the first time this season for Spring.

New Westminster opened the second quarter with a hard dash and Len Turnbull scored in less than two minutes. Gordon Spring then scored in ten minutes, putting the tally three to nil.

In the third quarter the Nationals handed out a surprise by showing a reverse of form. Len Turnbull scored twice but the easterners came back by doing the same, Lalonde and Gauthier doing the trick. Gauthier's goal was scored in eleven seconds on a rush from the face off. This made the score 5 to 2.

The Nationals looked good at the opening of the last quarter, but the New Westminsters soon found their gait again and put in two, making it seven to three. At that it remained till close of the game. The teams were as follows:

Nationals

L. Heureux, goal; Catterinch, point; Gaugnon, cover point; Decarie, first defense; Clement, second defense; Lechapelle, third defense; Secours, centre; Dulude, third home; Gauthier, second home; Lalonde, first home; Lemoureux, outside home; Duesault, inside home.

New Westminster

Gray, goal; T. Gifford, point; J. Gifford, cover point; Galbraith, first defense; Marshall, second defense; Rennie, third defense; R. Spring, centre; W. Turnbull, third home; Wintemute, second home; Finney, first home; L. Turnbull, outside home; G. Spring, inside home.

Timekeepers—B. F. Armstrong for Nationals; J. J. Johnston for Westminster.

Penalty timekeepers—W. Labretoue, Nationals; H. P. Major, Westminster.

Goal umpires—Dishney, Nationals; Harry Godfrey, Westminster.

BAD DAY FOR SKEELS

Regina, Sept. 19.—Dave Skeels had his big league baptism on Wednesday, when he pitched for Detroit against Cleveland. Although Detroit won, Dave's tout was hardly a success, as he had to be taken out in the seventh, when Cleveland started a fierce rally. Summers saved the day, the Tigers, who got eight runs in the first two innings, winning out, 9 to 8, Skeels' record was as follows: Ten hits in six innings, four bases on balls, hit one man, made a wild pitch, struck out two. Big Larry Lajoie must have had the chief somewhat nervous as, besides hitting him once, he permitted Larry to make two safeties, one a two-bagger.

ESKIMOS WERE HARD AT WORK

Practised Diligently for Two Hours on Saturday Afternoon. Are Making Progress

Two hours of good, earnest practice was put in by the Eskimo Rugby team on Saturday afternoon at Diamond Park and for the first time the onlooker could see a decided improvement in the play.

Messrs. Percy Hardisty, Rev. Robt. Pearson and Joseph Clarke of the selection committee were on hand and seemed very pleased with the progress the men are making.

Coach Belanger had the practice in charge and kept the players on the jump from 3 o'clock until the Lloydminster team arrived at five for the soccer match.

The scrimmage and wing men were put through a stiff drill in tackling, close-in passing, falling on the ball and following up the ball while the candidates for the back division worked out a few trick plays which it is hoped, will mystify their opponents. After this field work, the men lined up and put in a hour of fast football, which, though ragged at times, showed any amount of good material. With two weeks more of hard training the Eskimos will be in fine shape for their game here with Calgary Y.M.C.A. on Saturday, October 1st.

Those trying for places on the back division are Dykes, Wilson, Conway, Murphy, Roughton, Crickman, McDonald and Belanger, while there will be a battle royal among Parsille, Starke, Bishopric, Kennedy, O'Donahue, McCracken, Gibson, Barnes, McDonld, Higgins, Grieves, Ross, Douglas, and others for the positions on the rush line.

The next practice is on Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock and as many players as can get away from their business are requested to do so.

MONTREAL TEAM WON

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Not more than 300 turned out to witness Montreal and Cornwall wind up the N.L.U. season. First quarter was even break, both getting a goal. The second quarter was slow and uninteresting. Montreal scored twice and Cornwall once. In the second half the game was a bit more strenuous than the opening, and as a result Cameron, Hogan and Okane were sent to the fence. Home team scored once in the third. Montreal 4, Cornwall 3. Fred Scott made the game safe for Montreal when he scored the eighth goal before two minutes of the fourth quarter had expired, making the score 5 to 3 for the ex-champions.

A SAFE THAT HAS STOOD THE TEST

Safes, good safes, are something that interest all business men. The Morris Safe and Lock Company, who are general agents for "The Hall's Safe Company," of Cincinnati, Ohio, are handling a safe of which they are justly proud. Although they did not have an exhibit at the local exhibition, they have something which is of far more value to the man who is interested in safes than any mere exhibit. They have proofs of the actual worth of the Hall's safe. These proofs come from Nelson, B. C., where one of their safes stood the extreme test of fire very successfully.

The following letters speak for themselves. They were sent to Mr. Percy Hall Johnson, the Calgary agent for the firm.

Percy H. Johnson, Esq.,
Norris Safe & Lock Co.,
(General Agts., The Halls Safe Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Calgary, Alta.

Dear Sir:

At the request of your representative Mr. R. F. Stevens, who asked me to write you in regard to the recent fire of July 5th, which totally destroyed the Kreyscher Shingle Mill, and the Kootenay Engineering Works, Ltd., also a number of other houses. The fire was one of the worst and hottest Nelson ever had, destroying property worth $31,000. There is no building in Nelson that could burn and be any hotter than that of the Kootenay Engineering Works, in which stood one of your No. 345 thin wall, double door, Hall's Safe. The heat was so intense that it was not aproachable nearer than thirty yards, lasting about two hours. The water thrown towards it, with 130 pounds pressure per square inch, turned into steam and floated away on the breeze before reaching the burning flames. The dial was burned off, the bands twisted and the safe was badly warped from the intense heat, but it did the work it was built to do, for when opened by the maager of the Imperial Bank, Mr. J. M. Lay, the contents were in good order, which could hardly be expected of any safe.

I would gladly recommend the Hall safe as to its fireproof qualities.

Yours respectfully,
D. GUTHRIE,
Chief Nelson Fire Department,
Nelson, B. C.

Percy H. Johnson, Esq.,
Norris Safe & Lock Co.,
(General Agents., The Halls Safe Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.)

Dear Sir:

(Kreyscher Shingle Mill Fire at Nelson, July 5, 1901.)

I am in receipt of your favor dated July 5th, and in compliance with request therein beg to inform you, that I have visited the scene of fire mentioned above and made a thorough examination of the Halls Safe, which came through this fire. With pleasure I am able to inform you that the safe has aparently suffered no damcondition. Understand contents age whatever. Interior is in perfect when removed showed no signs of damage. Am informed that this was an exceptionally hot fire, and it must be gratifying to learn that your safe stood the test so well.

RAILWAY COMMISSION

Mr. Mabee then asked if there was any planking between the rails and received an answer that there was.

The tracks need elevating to the leve lof the C. N. R. and at the same time the street requires grading up to the level of both. Mr. Mabee said that he would reserve his decision and that he did not know of any case when the property had depreciated in value under similar circumstances.

Mr. O'Connor, acting for the local improvement district 22-24 and for the Attorney General's Department, asked that the G. T. P. be compelled to carry out the order of the Board in an order on October 20th, that the company divert the Fort Saskatchewan trail where it crosses the G. T. P. or put in a subway 66 feet long. In May the company put in a subway without the board's approval which made the crossing worse. Mr. O'Connor then asked that the alternative of diverting the trail be taken away from the company as they had every indulgence in the matter, and that they be compelled to build a proper subway.

Mr. Tate said that according to the order they had bought the land from the landowners on the Saskatchewan trail and compensated such as would receive compensation in order to divert the trail, but were held up by three landowners who would not sell out.

The commissioners said that the G. T. P. could compel them to sell out by legal process. The subway that was put in according to Mr. O'Connor was not wide enough.

"Well! What do you want us to do,?" asked Mr. Mabee.

"I want the company to be compelled to make a proper subway right away. At present there is a gully on the trail and we have the proper means of getting to Norton street. They have had three years to do this."

"I think your clients have changed their minds and don't want the diverted trail now," said the commissioner, "but you want to make them put in a subway after buying all this property. I do not think that the company are in default. Now this is the order: (1) That the G. T. P. will use legal process to appropriate lots 36-37-38 and 45 in Dwyer's subdivision. (2) That the plans for the Norton street bridge be sent to the board for approval within ten days and that the work be completed by July 1st, 1911. (3) That a connection between Norton street and the Saskatchewan trail be made within one month and that the Saskatchewan trail may not be closed until the Norton street bridge is completed."

The next case was an application of the G. T. P. branch lines company for an order approving of a crossing and road diversion in Township 45, range 21, west of the 4th district of North Alberta.

The commissioner said that there was was an awful lot of discussion over a very simple matter and that if the local improvement district and the railway company could not agree, he would settle it for them.

The crossing and road in question were the ones that were most used and several of the farmers living near by were on hand to help their cause.

The commission ordered that the company send plans for a bridge at the point in question, for the approval of the board within thirty days and that the local improvement district and the government within one month deposit $200 and $500 respectively in the Canadian Bank of Commerce; the company to complete the bridge by 1st of May, 1911, and the local improvement association to complete the approaches. When this is reached the $500 to be paid over to the G. T. P.

The next application was that of the Grand Trunk Pacific for an order, approving of its highway crossing and road diversion in S.W. quarter section township 51 range 19 west of 4th, North Alberta. And an application from the town of Strathcona for approval for the highway namely the extension of King street across the tracks of the G. T. P. The matter was allowed to stand over until the road allowance was ascertained.

The complaint of the Canadian Northern Railway Company alleging that the conductors of the street cars did not get off at the crossing by the platform on First street and give the all clear signals, was withdrawn owing to the street car company having instructed their conductors to do so.

Mr. R. B. Bennett appeared for the C. P. R. in the application of the local improvement district 24-3-4, of Millet, Alta., for an order directing the Calgary and Edmonton Railway Company to provide a bridge over the railway opposite Edward street, Millet.

The chief engineer of the C. P. R. in a letter, said that if the C. P. R. wished to enlarge their sidings to the yard limits and to use all the land they have for yards, Edward street would be right in the middle of the yards and would prove very inconvenient. He suggested that by a detour of 500 feet Alexander street could be used to great advantage.

The board ordered that the railway company will build the crossing at Alexander street at their own expense.

The consideration of the protection of the C. P. R. crossing at Whyte avenue, Strathcona, was dealt with very summarily. The switch was ordered by the board to be placed to the southeast of the crossing, and the matter was then allowed to stand over while the commission adjourned for lunch.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Henry D. Smith, in the employ for some time past of the Canadian Northern railway, Edmonton, Alberta, took place Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m., from the undertaking parlors of Connelly & McKinley.

Rev. Canon Webb, of All Saints Church, presided at the services. Canon Webb and Mr. Smith met in Edmonton and resumed with great pleasure on both sides the friendship which started when they were both boys back in Ontario. Rev. Canon Webb spoke very highly at the close of the service of his departed friend and said that after twenty years he found him with the same high ideals and lofty determination to do his duty and although he was grieved at the sudden death of Mr. Smith was pleased that he as a friend could preform the last rites.

The deceased had many friends not only in Edmonton, where he has been for the last three years, but also in Toronto and the eastern states. He was connected for many years with the Oddfellows and Independent Order of Oddfellows and gave much good service to the International Association of Machinists to which organization he has been connected for the last ten years.

Mr. Smith died from typhoid pneumonia on his homestead at Entwistle, Alta. He was nursed and tended by his wife to the last. His body was brought to Edmonton on Tuesday, 13th, by his son, Ray, and is now interred in the Edmonton cemetery.

Mr. Smith leaves, besides his wife and daughter, who reside in this city at present, three sons, one in Winnipeg, one in Ontario, and one in New York.

Cleveland, O., Toronto, Ottawa and New York papers please copy.

Messrs. Robert Gray, head of the Gray Carriage works, Chatham, Ont., and Manson Campbell, of the Manson Campbell company, also of Chatham, were visitors in Edmonton on aSturday. These gentlemen are on a tour of inspection of the branches of their companies in Western Canada.

eVn. T. J. Madden, Archdeacon of Liverpool, and Rev. Geo. H. Hanson, M.A., D.D., minister of Duncairn Presbyterian church, Belfast, Ireland, are expected to arrive in Edmonton on Wednesday. The former has been attending the Bi-centenary convention of the church of England in Canada, recently held in Halifax, N. S.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hobson, returned this morning from Bowen Island, where they have been summering, to receive Mrs. Lloyd, of Saskatoon, who will be their guest for a while.

EVERYONE HELPED BUILD NEW CHURCH

Westminster Presbyterian Church Was Packed Last Night at Reopening Services

Yesterday, the Westminster Church held two opening services in their renovated and rebuilt place of worship, at which the Rev. T. A. Reid gave addresses and congratulated the congregation on their new church. The Rev. A. Myers at the evening service told the congregation how very pleased he was with the success of the building enterprise. Last year one hundred families and one hundred young people were canvassed to give a weekly sum towards the church, but this year that number of families and young people came forward of their own accord, he said, and contributed liberally to the church.

There was no house to house canvassing he said. The matter was left entirely in the hands of the congregation and they have responded wonderfully.

Everyone should have a share in the building of the house. It was like the Bible story of the Lord's house, when every man, woman and child brought something, a piece of wood, a piece of linen, and so the house was built and a part of it belonged to everyone.

During the evening service there was special music and an anthem. The church was decorated for the occasion and there was not a seat vacant.

The church is built in such a way as to afford the greatest space for seating room. The altar is placed in a corner and the seats and gallery are in a semicircle facing it.

Tonight there will be a dinner in the hall given by the Ladies' Aid, after which there will be a social and musical evening in the church at which a number of the Presbyterian clergy of Edmonton will speak.

GROW OUR OWN TREES

City Will Start a Nursery to Grow Shade Trees for City's Boulevards

That next year the city may establish a nursery in the west end park for the purpose of growing tree to be eventually transplanted along the city boulevards, was the statement made by City Commissioner Bouillon Saturday. Mr. Bouillon had just concluded a conference with Archibald Mitchell, assistant superintendent of forestry at the government experimental station at Indian Head.

"We are learning, little by little, about shade trees," said Commissioner Bouillon. "I see no reason why we should not grow enough trees in five years to plant all our boulevards. We will get seeds and seedlings and start into the business in proper style, though of course, at first we will experiment only with native trees.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE LYCEUM

A notable cast of comedians and pretty girls of marked talent and picturesque costuming will all go to make up Thomas J. Beeson's complete one act version of "The Three Twins," entitled "Three of a Kind," starting today.

This vehicle for Sherman's Musical Comedy Company aims at no higher purpose than to make folks feel that nonsense can be made hearty and enjoyable. It is an old theme, but worked out with great laughing results and without anything suggestive.

The scenario in "Three of a Kind" has for its locale a seaside resort and deals with the escapade of a young fellow who is in love with the hotel-keeper's daughter and has to disguise himself to get into the house, which causes the old man to believe he is seeing things. It is good comedy, with a wholesome lot of humor running all the way through it. This play was written for laughing purpose only and if it does that it will fulfil the mission of all good farces.

"IDEAL EDMONTON," THEME OF F.W. PATTERSONS'S LECTURE

Sunday Afternoon Address at the First Baptist Church Drew Good Crowd

IDEAL CITIZENS FIRST

Then, If Citizens Are on High Plane, City Will Be Also, Say Pastor

In an exceedinly interesting address in the First Baptist church, yesterday afternoon, the Rev. F. W. Patterson, the pastor, drew a splendid word picture of an ideal city; a city free from hishonest and corrupted government, beautiful in appearance, having proper sanitary arrangements and regard for the public health, devoid of child and women labor, with perfect industrial conditions, and with a house for each family.

The title of the address was "Ideal Edmonton," but what Mr. Patterson said could be applied to any municipality.

In opening, Mr. Patterson drew attention of the growth of the cities of the world in the last 100 years, stating that the increase in the population of those cities in the past century has been greater than in all the previous centuries aggregated, and advancing his opinion as to the cause. The greater industrial dtvelopment, folowed by a proportionate demand for labor in the cities was largely responsible, augmented by the better opportunities offered, and the superiority of educational advantages in the cities over the rural methods.

Mr. Patterson then drew attention to the condition of the metropolis' today, pointing out the effect of the short sighted policies adopted in the past, naming a few cities, including Montreal, Toronto, and Seattle. The result of those policies was that the cities metnioned and others were overrun by private monoply and franchise.

"There is a great opportunity for the western cities to take advantage of the experiences of the older municipalities by providing for the future,' said Mr. Patterson.

"An ideal city is impossible," he continued, "without ideal citizens. In this day of government by the people a city cannot rise to a higher standard than that occupied by the people inhabitating it. No conditions can be ideal unless there is an ideal people behind it.'

The speaker then went on to deplore the dishonesty and corruption existing in most cities and stated that dishonesy in politics had become popular.

"If dishonesty or vice is popular, a city must fall far below the ideal," he said.

Mr. Patterson then dealt with the subject of proper housing conditions. He contended that the tenement should not exist in the ideal city. He pointed out that in American and in some Canadian cities there were a great many tenements. They had a deteriorating effect upon the home. He advocated a "one house—one family' system wherein every man owned his own home. Renting a house was very unsatisfactory.

"In Edmonton, I am glad to see there are no tenements, as they exist in other cities," he said, "and further a tenement could no more txist in Edmonton than a devil could in heaven."

"In an ideal city the inhabitants would be properly housed. In the home life there are many elements. In the ideal city conditions will be such that no mother ned work for her livelihood." Mr. Paterson branched into the discussion of women and child labor. "It is a calamity when mothers have to sally forth to earn their daily bread, for it means that her children must needs be neglected folowed by ill-effects. When a woman has completed her household duties, she has paid her debt to the state, and society has no further demands upon her. In the ideal city the fathers and husbands will earn enough to support their wives and families.

"Then, again, in the ideal city, the children will not have to win their daily bread. They will not be forced to enter the industrial or other fields until they are old enough and capable."

Mr. Patterson contended that child labor was a ruination, and pointed out the effects upon the health and future welfare of a child who is pushed to the limit of its capabilities in a sweat shop or as a messenger.

"Fortunately," said Mr. Patterson, "there is little of that in the western cities.'

Speculation and its effect upon the welfare of a municipality was then taken up. Mr. Patterson in offering his opinion that speculation was derogatory to the interests of a city or community, said it was responsible for a redistribution of wealth, which was worse than it was before.

The necessity of proper sanitary arrangements was discussetd at some length, Mr. Patterson going into a number of details with enthusiasm. He suggested that a board of health should have all the co-operation possible by the civic authorities and the citizens themselves in their work of bettering health conditions. The laws in that conection should be most strict and should be given the greatest publicity possible so that the citizens would become educated in the proper methods.

CASTOR'S RECORD IS VERY HARD TO BEAT

The Entries to the Big Fair Were Too Numerous and Big Building Was Put Up in Three Days

Castor, Alta., Sept. 17.—One of the biggest records yet made in Castor, where it seems a part of every citizen's aim to surpass something done previously, was made this week when in three days an agricultural building 160 feet long and forty feet wide was rushed up to accommodate the display of grain and vegetables, entered in this the first fair of the town and district.

The entries poured in on the secretary until there were over 500 entries in the different sections. There were all sorts of varieties of garden vegetables from the lordly pumpkin to the Irish potato and from the towering sunflower to the sweet pea. In the live stock entries were some of the best to be seen in the province. The stallions in all breeds being especially well represented, although the entries in the sheep, swine and cattle classes compared favorably with any thing in the province. Mr. McIntyre, government judge of live stock, had a difficult task to perform in picking the winners in the different classes.

Yesterday morning, the last day of the fair, with ideal weather, found an enormous crowd in town, some from a distance of 75 miles to the east and south. A splendid list of sports, including horse racing, baseball, football, etc., were pulled off to amuse the crowd, sending them home this evening well repaid for their long journey.

of the Interior Department and he offered the governorship of Alberta, to be succeeded in the Cabinet by Premier Sifton.

"That, in my opinion, is all newspaper gossip!" was Sir Louis' reply. "I don't think there will be any reorganization of the Dominion cabinet at present."

"Then you don't think there is anything in the Ottawa Journal's story to the effect that Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, intends to resign, to be succeeded by Judge Mabee, of the railway commission?"

"No. Although Mr. Aylesworth may not offer himself for re-election, I don't think he will resign until the dissolution of the present parliament."

Sir Louis expressed himself as being greatly pleased with Edmonton. He paid tribute to its location, the splendid condition of the streets and the magnificent parliament buildings in course of construction.

WRITING UP CANADA.

Lloydminster, Sept. 16.—Mr. Arthur E. Copping, of the Daily News, London, England, and his brother, Harold Copping the well known English artist, have been staying in Lloydminster this week.

Mr. Copping, who is doing a series of articles on Western Canada for the great Liberal daily, had special instructions from his editor to visit the famous Barr colony town and report upon conditions and prospects.

His visit, and tour through the adjacent country, furnished him with an abundance of material for "copy" and interesting stories from prosperous farmers in the district. His artist brother painted two pictures, one of the English church, and one of a farm six miles from the town. These pictures, with many others of the country in general, will appear in a book, written by A. E. Coping, to be published next spring in the Old Country, by Hodder & Stoughton.

Mr. Copping and his brother left for Edmonton on last night's train. They expressed their satisfaction and pleasure at the manifest signs of success and prosperity seen in the British colony. Their visit should be productive of excellent results in the future, for they stated that the success of British immigrants, in this district alone, furnished eloquent testimony to the golden possibilities of this wonderful west.

ALL ABOARD FOR CAMROSE FAIR

Railroad Town Will Have Two Marathons and a Baseball Tournament

Edmonton athletes are requested not to overlook the Camrose sports which are to be held in connection with the fall fair on Thursday and Friday, September 22nd and 23rd.

The C. P. R. is offering special rates from Strathcona and there will be a special train on Friday from Red Deer, which will connect with the train from the north at Wetaskiwin and reach Camrose at 11 o'clock in the morning. This will allow Edmontonians to leave Strathcona at 8.30 Friday and get at the Railroad City in ample time to see the entire programme.

A splendid list of attractions has been prepared, and the races are under the Alberta Amateur A. A. sanction, every runner being required to furnish himself with a card to show his simon-pure standing. Four teams have entered in the baseball tournament for which the prizes are $100, $65 and $35, and the directors would like to see a team from Edmonton enter, and carry off some of the prize money. There are numerous semi-pros in the city and they should be able to step in softly and take the money from Bittern Lake, Red Deer and Hardisty.

The runners will be well provided for there will be a five mile and a ten mile Marathon. The shorter race starts from the Windsor Hotel, Camrose, on Thursday morning, while the ten mile event is carded for Friday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock. Handsome prizes valued at over $100 are offered for these events.

For those of a musical bent there will be a band competition for which four entries are already in, while those who like a horse race will see some brisk tussles on the track.

As Thursday is the postponed Labor Day in Edmonton, there is no reason why a large number of citizens should not make the trip to Camrose and help make the Athletic meet and Fall Fair a huge success.

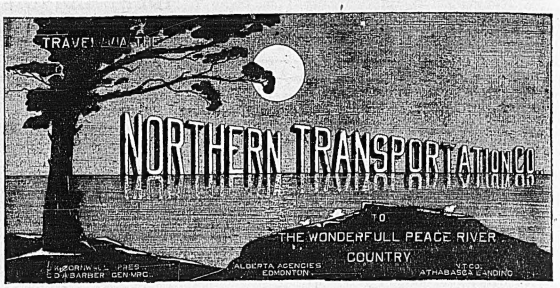

THE WORLDS' SERIES

The first game of the world's championship between Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Athletics will be played in Chicago on Sunday, October 15th, according to present plans.

TWILIGHT TEAM WON

McIntosh's Barnstormers of which team Lussi and Dell are members, have reached Spokane and are playing a series of three games with the Hazlewoods, City League champions. This is the team on which Moose Baxter's brothers held down pitchers' box and first. Henry Baxter, now doing cement contracting in Calgary, had the splendid record of 18 wins and only two losses.

The first game resulted in a win for the Twilight Leaguers by the close score of 8-7. Whisman and McIntosh, winning battery.

A weekly service will be maintained during the summer season. A Steamer will leave Athabaska Landing every Wednesday evening at 7.30, making connection for Peace River Points.

Satan Sanderson

By HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES, Author of "Hearts Courageous," Etc.

Copyright, 1908, the Bobbs-Merrill Company.

Satan Sanderson" he could. His shifty eyes surveyed the other's figure —the corduroys, the high laced boots, the soft blue flannel shirt. "Not exactly in purple and fine linen," he said. The impudent swagger of intoxication had slipped over him again, and his boisterous laugh broke with a hiccough. "I thought the gospel game was about played out that night in the chapel. And now you are willing to take a hint from the prodigal. How did you find my nest? And perhaps you can tell me who has been making himself so at home here lately?"

"You were something of a howling swell as a parson."

"I have," said Harry evenly.

Hugh's glance, that had been waveringly about the neat interior, returned to Harry, and knowledge and anger leaped into it. "So it was you, was it? You are the one who has been trying his hand as a claim jumper!" He marched toward the table and leaned upon it. "I've always heard that the devil took care of his own. The runaway rector stumbles on my manor, and, with his usual luck—Satan's luck he called it at college—steps in just in time to strike it rich."

He stretched his hand suddenly and caught a tiny object that glittered against Harry's coat—the little gold locket which the other had tied to his watch guard. The thong snapped, and Hugh sent the pendant rattling across the doorway.

"You were something of a howling swell as a parson," he said insolently. "Have you any need of the jewelry now?"

Harry Sanderson's eyes had not left Hugh's face. He was thinking swiftly. The bolt from the blue had been so recent that this sudden apparition seemed a natural concomitant of the situation. Only the problem was no longer imminent. It was upon him. Jessica was not for him—he had accepted that. Though the clock might not turn backward, this man must stand between them. Yet his presence now in the predicament was intolerable.

"Well," said Hugh, with a sneer, "what have you got to say?"

"How much will you take for the property?"

"That's your game, is it? But I'm not such a numskull! Whatever you could offer, it's worth more to me. I know you, Satan Sanderson," he sneered. "You were always the same precious hypocrite in the old days, pretending to be so almighty virtuous, while you looked out for No. 1. I saw through you then, too, when you were posing as my friend and trying your best all along to queer me with the old man! I knew it well enough. I knew what the reason was too! You wanted Jessica! You!—

Self control left Harry suddenly, as a ship's sail is whipped from its gaskets in a white squall. Before the words could be uttered his fingers were at Hugh's throat.

At that instant there was the sound of running feet outside, a hurried knock at the door and an agitated voice that chilled Harry's blood to ice.

His hands relaxed their hold. He dragged Hugh to the door of the inner room, thrust him inside, shut and bolted it upon him.

Then he went and opened the outer door.

* * * * * * * *

The accusation of Prendergast had stunned Jessica's faculties. As in an evil dream she had seen the sheriff rise to his feet and methodically put the fragment of paper into his pocketbook. A moment later she was running up the dark path, her thoughts a confusion in which only one coherent purpose stood distinct—to warn him. They would know no need to hasten. If the man she loved had reached the cabin, she would be before them.

She stood before the door, her hands clasped tightly, her eyes on Harry's face.

"What has happened?" he asked.

"Men will be here soon—men from the town. I overheard them. I wanted to let you know!" she hesitated. It had grown all at once difficult to put into words.

"Coming here? Why?"

"To arrest a man who is accused of murder."

DON'T LIKE BANKS; WALKS WITH $1050

Russian Trips It to Vegreville and Back Again With Big Roll in Pocket

Gladsan Grembyski, is a Russian who trusts nobody but himself, and he has got it so badly that he refuses to put his money in the bank, thinking it safer to keep it in his pocket, and walks 160 miles, not liking to trust himself and his wad to the people who might be on board a train.

Grembyski is the proud possessor of a wife, two children and $1,050. The outfit arrived at the immigration hall and asked for some information about Pakan, near Vegreville. Before starting out the Russian refused the advice of the immigration people to put his money in the bank, and also refused to take a train, starting out on foot.

He walked to Vegreville, and there he changed his convictions and trusted himself and money to whatever companions changed to be on board the stage bound from there to Pakan. On the return journey, when he again arrived at eVgreville, his old-timed suspicions returned and he counted the ties again. He arrived back in Edmonton, footsore and weary but satisfied. He found some good land at Pakan and will likely locate there.

The new rooms in Peace avenue and Syndicate avenue schools are to be opened tomorrow.

There will be a meeting of the directors of the Edmonton exhibition this week at which a financial statement will be issued preparatory to giving it to the public.

ATTEMPT TO FREE FIFTY LYNCHERS

Three Men in Automobile Accused of Trying to Empty Jail at Newark, Ohio

Newark, O., Sept. 19.—What is thought to have been an attempt to liberate the fifty or more men who are in jail on charges of participating in the recent lynching of Carl Etherington, was frustrated by Sheriff Slabaugh early today.

Three men in an automobile acted as accomplices. They halted in front of the jail and began tinkering with the machine, cutting out the muffler and running the engine so that a terrific noise resulted.

Under cover of this, prisoners began to file the bars of the upper sections of the jail. Their actions were discovered by the sheriff, and after the safety of his prisoners had been assured, he left for Columbus to notify the state authorities of the attempt.

Etherington was a detective employed by the anti-saloon league. He was lynched after a local man had been shot and killed in a fight which followed a raid by the "dry" forces on the latter's establishment.

CORNER STONE LAYING

On the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of the Royal Alexander oHspital on Thursday, Sept. 22nd., Commissioner Bouillon has made arrangements so that all the cars will run on the line to the exhibition grounds. This will enable those who wish to attend the hospital ceremony at 2 o'clock to do so and if they so desire they may proceed to the exhibition grounds to attend the labor day sports being held there.

The hospital committee wish it understood that although a great many invitations for the ceremony are being issued yet at the same time it is purely a public function.

POLICE RAID CHINESE DEN

wide open and the whole police party burst in. The consternation of the Chinamen was complete. Describing the scene to a Capital reporter this morning one of the police party said:

"Did you ever open the door of a barn in the country sudenly and disturb a nest of rats? Well, if you have you can have a pretty good idea of what took place Saturday night.'

The Chinamen scattered in all directions and over a dozen made their escape through the window, jumping out unto the roof of a one-storey building eight feet below, and from there to the ground. Twenty-eight however, were detained. The others made good their escape.

In the room besides all sorts of gambling parapernalia, dear to he celestial heart, there were a number of opium pipes, and opium cans. There was, however, no opium in sight. But that there was some and probably hidden away there can be no doubt. There was also a quantity of liquor.

The corridor and court room at the police station was full of chattering and frightened celestials, some attired in civilized garb and others in their native costume. Some wore the fancy pumps on their feet common to Chinamen, while many wore ordinary boots. Quite a number were smoking cigars. There were tall Chinamen, short Chinamen, fat Chinamen, slim Chinamen; all kinds of Chinamen.

The suspicions of the police that such a resort existed were occasioned by the sounds of revelry which came from the place for several nights. Passers-by could plainly hear the noises which unquestionably accompany a gambling joint. It is a wonder that the celestials dared to carry on such an institution within earshot of the police station and it is a question how long it really has existed.

ACTION AGAINST SYDNEY, N.S.

Department of Justice to Make City Pay for Troops Sent There

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The department of Justice has given instructions to counsel to proceed against the municipality of Sydney, N. S., to recover $3,000 cost of transportation of troops to the saw mill strike there in 1904.

TWO DAYS WITHOUT

trail along the north side of the lake and decided to shoulder his pack the rest of the way to Edmonton through the Swan Hills. He encountered some fellows trailing a bunch of horses into Edmonton and they shared their grubstake together. On Sunday, Sept. 11th, they divided their last piece of bannock. He records that he felt pretty queer when he picked up his cup of strong tea and his portion of the bannock, "not much more than an inch square." How long would they be without food? was the unspoken thought uppermost in their minds. At lthat day they went without it, but on the fololwing evening came on a half-breed's shack. Famished as they were they disregarded all northern ethics, broke the locks and were rewarded with a box of mouldy moose meat. Hard as it was to eat, it made them all sick, but it stayed the pangs for a time. The next day they reached the outskirts of civilization, out beyond Lac St. Anne, where they obtained provisions and shelter. From here on the trip was uneventful and they reached Edmonton safe and sound on Saturday last.

Mr. Gaylord looks none the worse for his trying experiences and intends to locate up north in the near future.

TWO MORE BANKS

"There is a possibility,' was all that he would say.

The Home Bank has about sevtn branches in Western Canada, the most important of which is in Winnipeg. They carry the acount of the Grain Growers' Grain company, which is the concern which handles the products of the members of the Grain Growers' association of the West.

Col. Mason was asked if he expected a financial stringency this fall.

"No, I don't expect one," he replied," although it is hard to say how the financial market will be. There is no telling.'

"Are you making this trip solely for business?" asked the reporter.

'Well, not entirely," was the reply. "I visited Saskatoon so as to go over the old battlefields of 1885. You know I comanded a company of the Royal Grenadiers in the rebellion, and was severely wounded at Batouche. While there I met a priest that was wounded about the same time, while trying to escape the rebel lines. I was greatly surprised and equally pleased to met him again."

Col. Mason has very many interesting stories to tell of the stirring campaign of 1885. He is now a brigadier.

Col. Mason was seeing the city today, and tomorrow will leave for the coast and Prince Rupert.

COMPANY'S AGENT NEEDS NO LICENSE

Judge Taylor Quashed Magistrate's Conviction for Selling Stationery Without City License

Judge Taylor today handed out a decision in the appeal case Rex. vs. Gaunt and decided that the conviction should be quashed.

On September 9, 1909, R. G. Gaunt was fined $50 and costs by the police magistrate for violating city bylaw 178 and selling stationery without a license.

Appellant was an agent for the Wilson Stationery Co., of Winnipeg, and Judge Taylor found that under the Foreign Company's Ordinance the company has power to carry on business in Alberta without a license fee being exacted by any municipality. Under the charge as it was laid, it was the company and not the agent that was really fined. Proceeding, Judge Taylor, in quashing the conviction, states that had the charge been against the apellant for selling stationery on his own account, he might have been convicted if he could not prove that he was selling for and on account of the company. As soon as he proved he was selling under the Foreign Companies Ordinance, the judge finds, Gaunt had a complete defence. When he was selling for the stationery company, all appellant had to prove was that the Wilson Co. was registered under the ordinance and it would not be necessary for him to prove that he was not the agent of any other corporation not so registered.
